

ONLINE
5.3

Writing a New Conclusion

English is the most valuable course taken throughout every grade level. You learn not only many, many subjects needed on the SATs, but also skills needed to perform well in life.

One of the main reasons English is such a benefit is for the SATs. SATs are so important to your future because they decide which college you will go to, which decides what kind of job you will have and how well off you will be in life. You get the basic knowledge needed for this test all through your years of English classes.

Another reason English is an important course is because it teaches you to have a great vocabulary. The better your vocabulary, the more high class you will seem. When being interviewed for a job position in any area, the better one speaks about him or herself, the more eligible you will seem for the job.

Overall, English will help you succeed in life. It can give you the basic knowledge for SATS and the skills needed to have a successful life.

Rewritten Conclusion 1

Rewritten Conclusion 2

Share your conclusions with a partner. What other ideas do you get about different conclusions?
